

Couture creations

Shayna Blaze-Vaughan's residential design business, Blankcanvas Interiors, takes inspiration from the irregularities of nature. "A row of trees can look so refined and regal but it is the one that is slightly bent that captures my eye," says Shayna. In this bedroom sitting area, where passion and mood co-exist with the functional realities of dressing and sleeping, contrast is key. The choice of simple black and white creates vibrancy. The drama of defined black edges teamed with soft, brushed cotton and a sheer, printed, frivolously feathered cushion is a visual treat. Blankcanvas Interiors (03) 9876 3277, blankcanvasint.com

Flexible furnishings

Thinking high-end homewares and functional furnishings for your apartment? SACHA design's commercial and residential range is stylishly stark and shows a love of the minimalist interior. But the Rubik's Cube-esque configuration of white leather L-shaped modular sofa and colourfully panelled low-rise sideboard are anything but cold. The front panels of the wall unit are available in more than 100 colours in Starfire glass and the flat-finish exterior (shown here in white lacquer) also comes in a plethora of colour choices to suit any feel. Sacha Design, 182 Johnston St, Fitzroy, (03) 9419 2422, sacha.com.au. ■
